Lest We Forget

As years pass by and memories fade,
Amid life's tumult, toil, and fret,
This book will be our guide and aid--
Lest we forget, lest we forget.

Let's look within and meet once more,
Forgotten friends that we once met,
Who left with us through Learning's door --
Lest we forget, lest we forget.

We can see again the kids we knew,
The "Brain," the "Pest," the majorette--
The King, the Queen, (attendants too)--
Lest we forget, lest we forget.

Recall to mind the dreams we had,
Dreams not quite fulfilled as yet,
Where all was happy, nothing sad--
Lest we forget, lest we forget.

G. H. Fisher

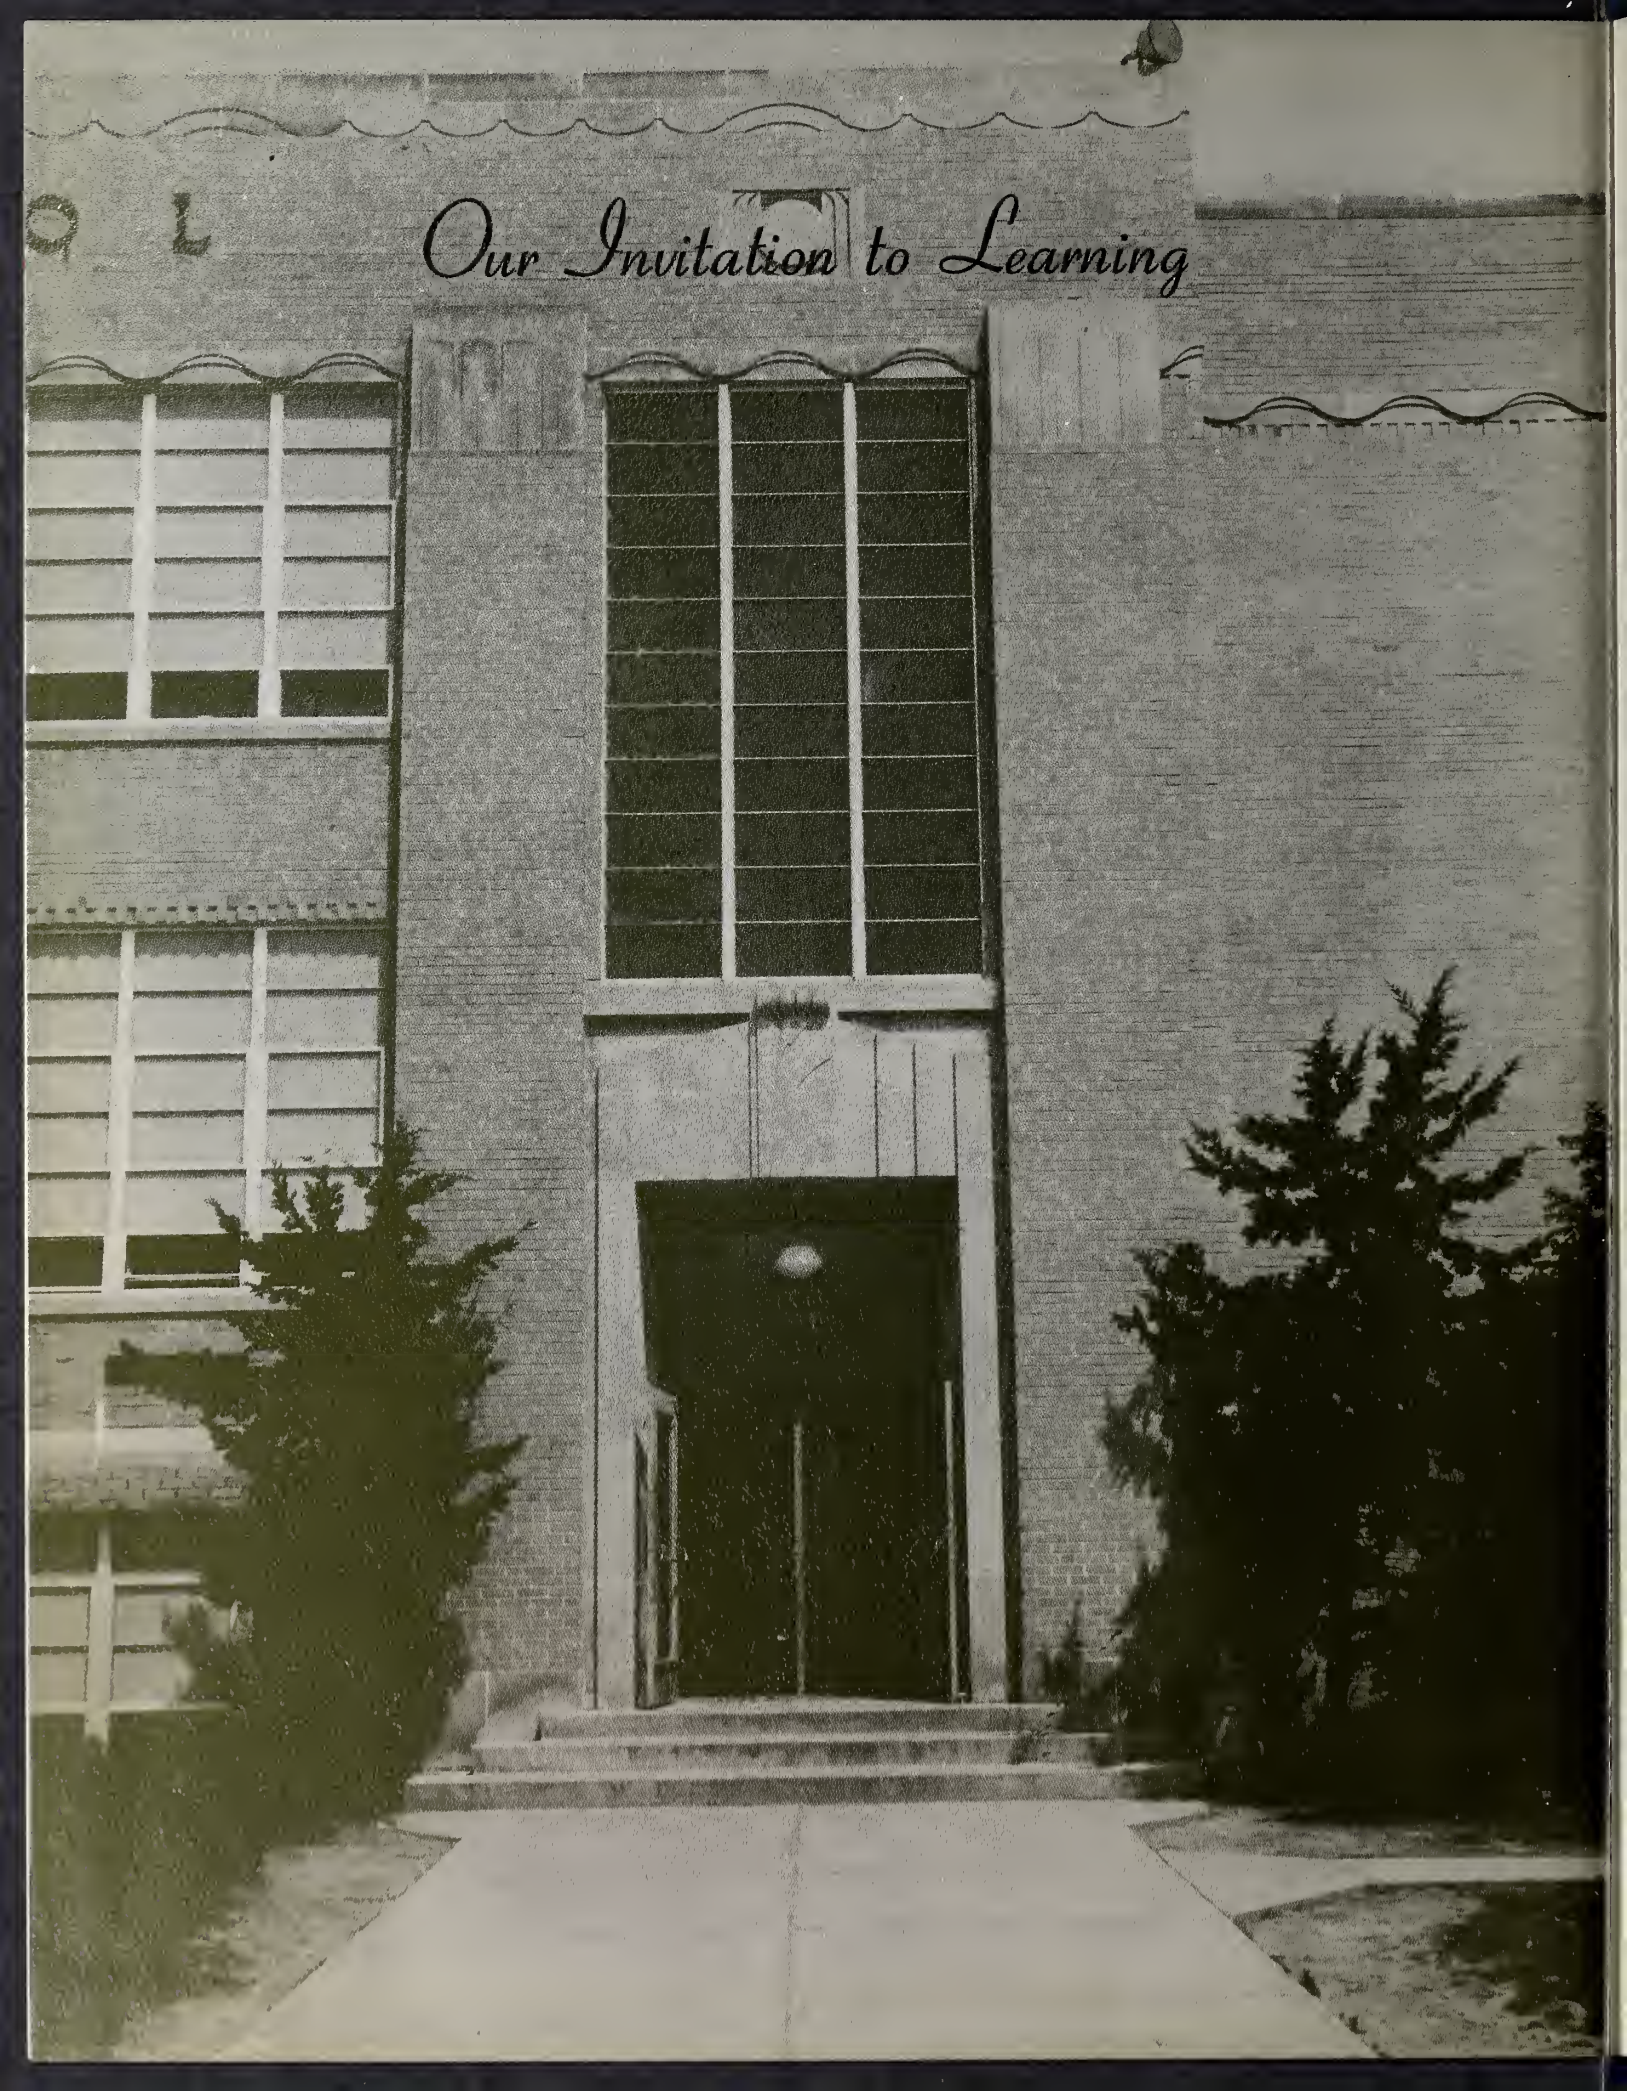

Dedication

The annals of every school system are highlighted here and there with the names of dedicated men and women who have pledged their lives to the education of American youth. All too often these people are not recognized until they have completed their work and have passed on. We, the Keyhole Staff, wish to give credit to one of those dedicated educators now--before his work is done. Therefore, for his untiring efforts in helping to create the finest school system possible for Wayne Township and Ben Davis, and for his devotion to education and learning, we proudly dedicate this, the 1960 Keyhole, to Mr. Frank Cline, Supervising Principal for Wayne Township Schools.

Mr. Frank Cline

Our Invitation to Learning

To the students, faculty, and parents of Ben Davis High School--

Let us not forget that education is not gained by idle minds nor wishful thinking. One must give of his time and talents to improve himself. When we, as individuals, lift our plane of living and put forth our best efforts, we cause a chain reaction that results in a better school, a better community, and a better world.

Let us remember to give of our best, and the best will come back to us.

Very sincerely yours.

Madison T. Shadley

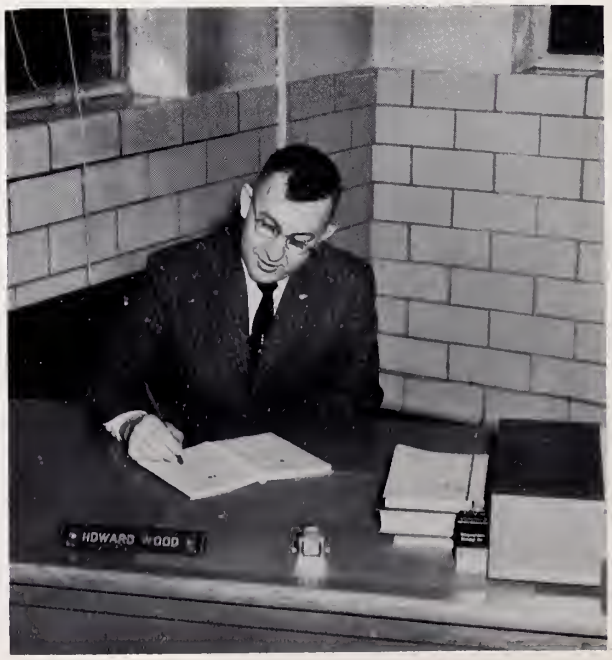

Mr. William Girton, Principal of the Senior Building and Registrar for Ben Davis High School, pauses briefly in his busy schedule for us to get this picture.

The Excellent Administration

Mr. Richard Apple, Principal of the Wayne Central Building and Head of the Guidance Department.

Mr. Howard Wood, Principal of the Annex Building and Co-ordinator of Student Activities.

Mr. Robert Seeman, the Dean of Boys, does an admirable job of helping our Ben Davis boys with their many problems.

Their Considerate Advice

Mrs. Helen Mercer, the Dean of Girls, can always be counted on to guide and direct our Ben Davis girls with a deep understanding and concern for their problems.

MR. SAM LANG

Better school facilities never "just happen." They are the result of ambitious dreams, careful planning, and hard work. In Wayne Township with its 15 grade school buildings and four high school buildings, the major task of keeping up with our growing physical plant needs falls to our township trustee, Mr. Sam Lang, and his advisory board.

This is Mr. Lang's sixth year in office; and during his term of service, six new grade schools or additions, a cafeteria, an industrial arts building, and a thorough remodeling of the Senior Building has been accomplished. His pledge remains the same; and that is, to provide the very best facilities possible in order that our Ben Davis High School can continue to grow toward our goal of being the finest school in the state.

Mr. Sam Lang (standing second from left) is host to the Marion County School Board at the Mary McClellan School which is the newest school in Wayne Township. The Board meets once a month to discuss problems pertaining to the schools of Marion County and to exchange ideas on how best to provide first class education for us.

they helped 'behind the scene'

Mrs. Alice Harker, our School Secretary, answers one of her many phone calls. Mrs. Shirley Hargis, assistant to Mrs. Harker, is shown at the right.

Ben Davis High School continues to grow, and this year we had well over two thousand pupils. This makes more and more secretarial work for our full time School Secretary, Mrs. Alice Harker. Managing the PBX switchboard girls, getting out the daily announcements, and handling a mountain of correspondence fills Mrs. Harker's work day. In fact, because of her terrific work load, the school provided her with a full time assistant--pretty, perky Mrs. Shirley Hargis. Between the two of them, they do an admirable job in smoothly handling the heavy detail work connected with running big Ben Davis High.

that awards are won

Scholarship, dependability, and loyalty are the basic factors required for a girl to receive the Daughters of the American Revolution Award.

Betty Thompson was the 1960 recipient of the award at Ben Davis High School in the fall.

To become eligible for the scholarship, a girl first must be selected by the members of the faculty; then she is required to take a citizenship examination, which is given by the Indianapolis Chapter of the D.A.R. The tests are then judged and the county winners are announced. These winners then compete for the state award which is a very high honor.

Betty Thompson, senior, was this year's recipient of the Daughters of the American Revolution Award.

Mrs. Beneda Campbell presents the top journalism awards to Kay Wills, Stan Walker, and Sally Katzenberger.

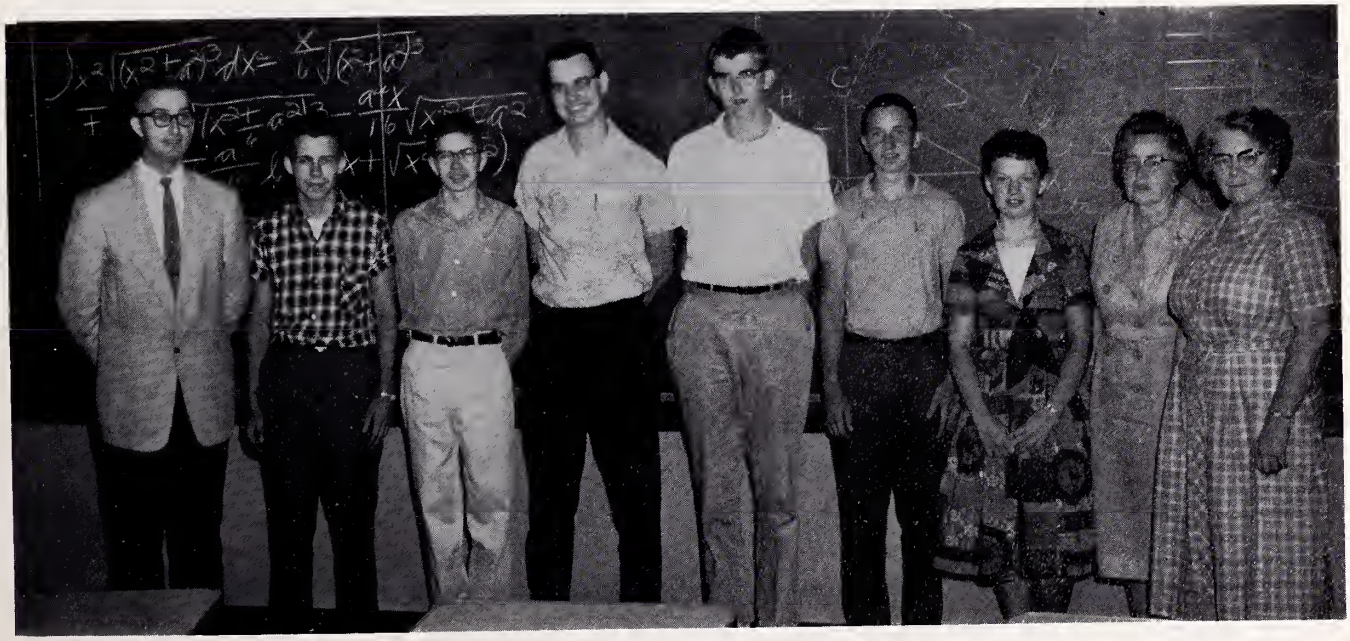

Mr. Wendell Hine Congratulates (left to right) Wally Bucklew, Ted Spurgeon, Ray Stanifer and Leroy McSchooler on their breaking of the school's mile relay record.

Our Valedictorian

The highest honor that a Senior student can win at Ben Davis is to graduate as Valedictorian. In a class of 420 students, the competition is keen, and to come out as the very best merits everyone's praise.

Mary Mahan, our 1960 Valedictorian, quietly went about the business of being the top academic scholar at Ben Davis High School. To her, just being a good student was not enough. She had to be the best. However, she found time to do more than just study. Her extra-curricular activities included belonging to the Honor Society, Mu Alpha Theta, J.C.L., Chorus, and the Booster Club.

On Honor Day, her study and concentration paid off when she walked off with the I.U. Valedictorian Scholarship and the Alumni Scholarship.

Mary Mahan, we students and teachers of Ben Davis salute you!

Our Salutatorian

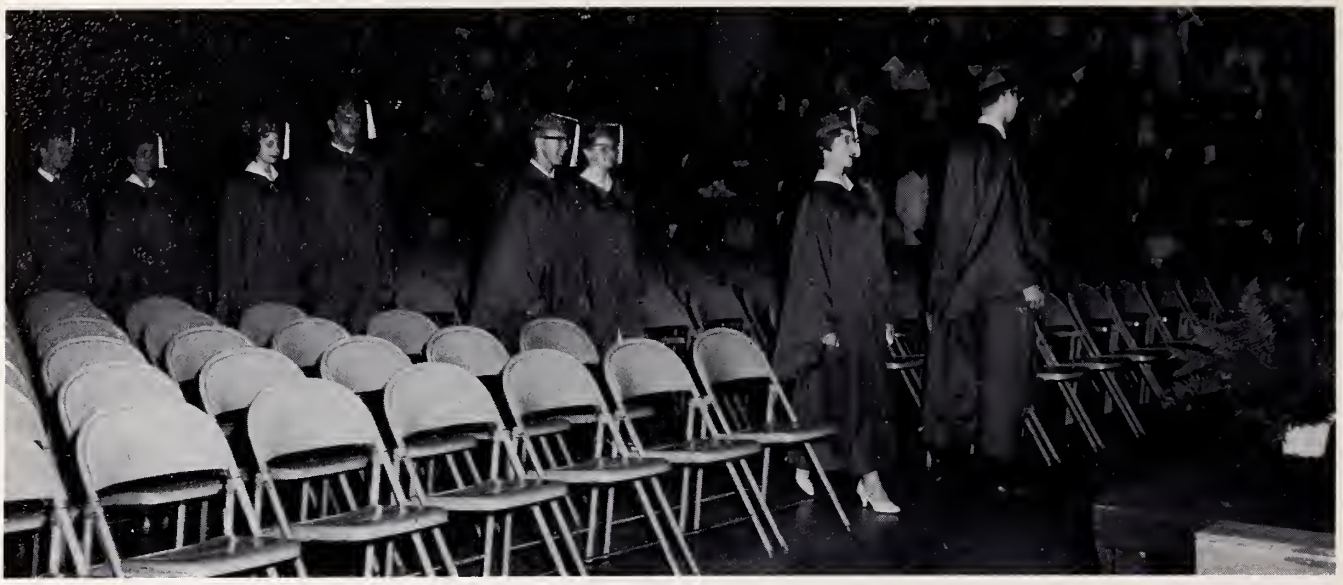

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" is a proven statement. Being Salutatorian and second highest in her class of 366 seniors, may seem to indicate that NormaJo Kolbe comes under that heading. But during her four years at Ben Davis, she has managed to acquire the nearly perfect combination of work and play.

On the work side of the picture, NormaJo included courses in English, history, science, math, and commerce in all of which she excelled highly. As a reward for excellence in math, she was selected to be a member of the honorary math club, Mu Alpha Theta. Because of her scholastic achievement, extra-curricular activities, leadership, and character, she was selected to join the National Honor Society.

In her leisure NormaJo participated in the Mask and Gavel Club, Thespians, Marching Band, Orchestra, Drummerettes, S.P.Q.R., J.C.L., Sunshine Society, National Forensics League, Booster Club, Bowling Club, and Trialge. She was also a member of the debate team.

On Honor Day NormaJo was again rewarded for all her effort with the American Legion Award. Her greatest honor, however, was receiving a $2400, full-tuition, scholarship to Butler University.

That final day has arrived--GRADUATION DAY! Everyone is filled with joy! Their school days are over; no more homework, no more studying, no more seventh periods, no more exam-cramming, no more changing classes in the rain, no more running to get in lunch line. Hurrah, that final day is here. But wait a minute. Do we see tears in the graduates' eyes? Do we see sorrow in leaving 'ol Ben Davis? Well, perhaps. Graduation is a giant step from fun loving teenagers to serious minded adults. Maybe it would be nice to go back and try again. But graduation is here and we must be going on...

Our Last Days At Ben Davis

Three very inspiring speeches were given at Baccalaureate this year. They were given by Tom Howald, NormaJo Kolbe, and Duane Wood. At the right, Duane Wood delivers his speech to an attentive audience.

Several Honors were given on Honor Day this year to graduating members of Ben Davis. In the lower right, Mr. Madison Shadley presents the scholarship award to Mary Mahan; Citizenship to Duane Wood; School Spirit to Ann Wechsler, and Activities to Tom Howald. The American Legion Awards were presented to NormaJo Kolbe and Tom Howald.

"Eeny, Meeny, Miney, Mo, come on team let's go-go-go!"

As these two pictures plainly show, during school and after school the students of B.D. High are a happy group of people!

Who can ever forget those riotous pep sessions that brought such joy and enthusiasm to the fans and that much needed confidence to the team.

A group of students are shown here supplying their cheers and hurrahs, while the Ben Davis pep band supplies that "certain something" that sparks the spirit in one of the Ben Davis songs.

This year our pep band, under the direction of Mr. Gene Smith, deserves a big "thank you" for their fine performances of cheering our Giants on to victory at every home basketball game.

This group of students waiting for their ride home is a familiar sight around Ben Davis.

Many an after-school class of make-up work, club activities and meetings and (pardon the expression) seventh periods keep students after school many times.

Let's hope these students are staying for make-up work or clubs!

Two presentations that will long be remembered by this year's students of Ben Davis were the annual music festival and the spring play, "Oklahoma!"

Above, Patty Pruett glides through a solo in the Arabian Nights number. There were several other dance routines, including: an Indian number, a Gypsy number, a Dogpatch number, an Irish number and many others.

Several organizations participated in the Music Festival such as; the band, the orchestra, the choirs, the dance band, the majorettes, the flag corps and the Bellaires.

Another spectacular this year was the presentation of "Oklahoma!" The Dramatic Club and all the above organizations participated in this play. Everyone agreed that Oklahoma was the finest play ever given at Ben Davis and this was shown by the reactions of the students and the attendance at the two night performances.

that lunch-time was fun-time

"Charge!" "Save me a place in lunch line!" "Crowder." These are very familiar expressions that are heard every day in the Ben Davis Cafeteria. The cafeteria is one of the most popular places at Ben Davis, especially around noon time. Above, Sandy Kinney and Patty Cottey are laughing over a private joke, while Ron Rajer, Mary McKinney, Janet Booher and Sue Lewis seem to have more serious matters to discuss.

Some of the most popular people around Ben Davis are the cooks! Ben Davis has a fine staff of cheerful cooks who always seem to whip up some "Grade A" meals. Some people believe food is the closest thing to our hearts and they may be right.

That long awaited day has finally arrived! These students are lined up to be initiated into the National Honor Society, an honor group at Ben Davis.

these who were top scholars

The members of the National Honor Society seem to be enjoying themselves at the annual Honor Society Dance.

Every season has its special events. In the spring it's the Prom, and in the fall it's the Homecoming. The Homecoming is the night when Ben Davis alumni return to their old alma mater to see how things have changed, to back the present football team, and to admire the Homecoming royalty.

After the "Star Spangled Banner" was played, the football game with Washington High School began. At the half the band put on a half-time show during which the Homecoming queen, Sandy Allen, senior, and her court, Delores Frost, senior; Sandy Kinney, junior; Sandy Miller, sophomore; and Suzanne Claycombe, freshman, were presented to the spectators. After Sandy was crowned by football co-captains, Jon Ingleman and Ray Rippy, the game continued and ended in a defeat for Ben Davis.

Despite B.D.'s loss, spirits were high at the dance, whose center of attraction was the reigning royalty. There in the cafeteria, music filled the air and sent reminiscing alumni's memories shooting back to the Homecomings they had attended in their high school years.

that English helped

"And what is so rare as a day in June"...and "Verbs are action words" are two familiar phrases that may be heard in any B.D. English class.

The English department, under the direction of Mrs. Beneda Campbell, has several elective courses which students are able to take. They are: Bible Literature, College Composition and English Literature and Developmental Reading aside from the regular English courses.

A student is required to take only five years of English, however, four years of English are valuable.

Mrs. Beneda Campbell, Head of the English Department, explains the facts about making term papers.

Ted Winings, junior, explains a few pointers on the speech he's making, as Mr. Bobby Hughes, teacher, watches.

Student Librarians, Delores McRee and Royce Wright, offer assistance to Jim Burrin and Kenny Atwell who are hunting for term paper material.

Marcia Burnell receives help from Mrs. Jessie Kirk on her spacing. This particular class happens to be a Senior typing class.

as we prepared for business life

Here is a Business Machine class. The students here are working with Comptometers.

The field of commerce offers many opportunities to Ben Davis students. Eleven faculty members prepare approximately 1300 students for clerical or secretarial jobs. Mrs. Jesse Kirk, head of the Commerce Department, is often asked to recommend past students to people desiring secretaries or other persons in the business field.

Throughout the school year students strive to achieve their pins in shorthand and typing. Tests are given and then teachers issue word pins to those who have either typed or taken shorthand in a given length of time. Honor Day an award is given to commerce majors on the basis of their scholastic achievements.

The following commercial courses are offered at Ben Davis: Bookkeeping I, II, III, & IV: Shorthand I, II, III, & IV; Typing I, II, & III; General Business I, & II; Selling and Retailing I & II; Clerical Practice and Comptometer Operating. Non-commercial students may take Senior Typing.

Several awards were given to Latin students and Spanish students on Honor Day this year. Mrs. Helen Mercer, head of the Latin Department, presented awards to the outstanding students in Latin.

we studied foreign languages

Each year an award is given to the outstanding student in Spanish. This year's recipient of the award was Shirley Wingler, Senior.

We are living in a rapidly changing world in which the ability to understand and speak foreign languages is fast becoming a necessity for those countries and peoples who wish to be recognized as world powers.

To keep pace with this need, Ben Davis has the goal of expansion in its Foreign Language Department headed by Mrs. Helen Mercer. This year 423 pupils have enrolled in Foreign languages; 240 in Latin I-II, 75 in Caesar, 20 in Cicero, 70 in Spanish I-II, and 18 in Spanish III-IV. This is an increase of 70 over last year's total.

Other purposes of teaching Latin and Spanish are: to aid pupils in understanding our government, to give pupils the opportunity of learning a modern language, and to let pupils see how people in other countries live.

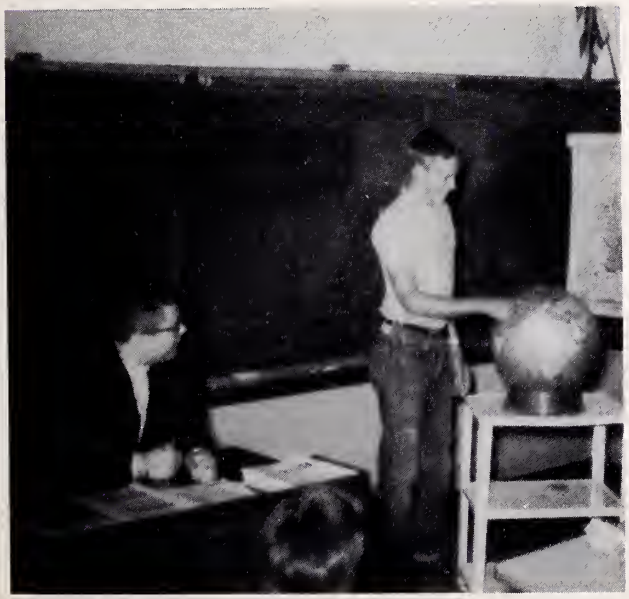

Instructing the 12 daily language classes are: Miss Rena Rosenberry, teaching Latin I-II; Mrs. Helen Wampler, Caesar; Mrs. Helen Mercer, Cicero; Mrs. Shirley Lynch, Latin I-II; and Mr. Jose Davila, Spanish I-II-III-IV.

Mr. Mimis Antonopolous, history teacher, shows one of his U.S. History classes Newspapers that headline important events.

and better understood the past

Mr. James Ray watches as one of his world history students points out a certain location of the world that they are studying at the present time.

From ancient Rome to Cape Canaveral, all phases of history are covered in the history department of Ben Davis High School. This department, under the supervision of Miss Olive Carruthers, has a variety of social studies courses from which to choose.

World history, United States history, geography, economics, psychology, and American government are the social studies courses in which 1298 Ben Davis students are enrolled. There are eight full-time teachers and one part-time teacher in this department.

In order to graduate, a student must have four credits in social studies; and of these four, two of them must be in United States history and one, in American government.

It is recommended that college-bound students majoring in social studies should take advantage of this opportunity and enroll in all of the available courses offered in the curriculum.

Mrs. Nina Martin explains some of the basic fundamentals in math to one of her College Algebra Classes, which consist of seniors only.

that math and science

Mr. Charles Carpenter, math teacher, relaxes with his Algebra IV class on the last school day by showing some fabulous slides of his trip through Germany and Western Europe.

No one in this highly accelerated, highly skilled, and highly trained modern age can hope to be much of a success either in his exciting high school years or in his business life after graduating unless he has had several years of mathematical training.

Therefore, aiming to present a thorough study of this subject, the Math Department at BDHS offers the following curriculum: general math, shop math, Algebra I, II, III, IV, plane geometry, solid geometry, trigonometry, and college algebra. A special interest of the department has been participating in the State Math Contest.

A sign of the growing interest in math is the fact that approximately 1100 pupils have enrolled in math classes this year, an increase of about 100 pupils over last year's tally, according to Miss Nina Martin, head of the Math Department. These 1100 are taught by nine teachers in 35 separate classes.

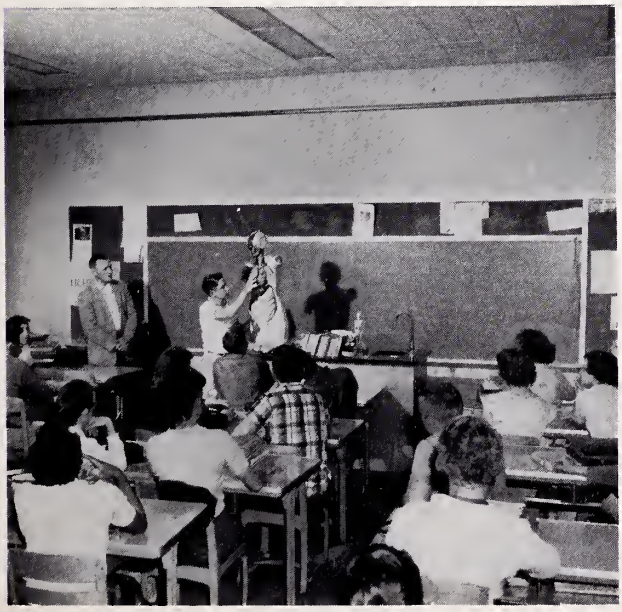

Larger rooms with more board space have been the most noticeable improvements over the 1958-'59 department. Future plans for the department are to improve teaching techniques and possibly to introduce analytic geometry into the curriculum.

One of the most enjoyable aspects of chemistry class is lab work. Here we see Mr. Daryl Miller's chemistry group working on one of their many experiments.

are vital to America's progress

Mr. Evan Fine watches one of his biology students as he demonstrates the correct placement of the lungs.

Have you ever wondered how a fish breathes...how a pansy grows...how nitroglycerin is made...or how a camera takes pictures? These questions and countless others are presented and explained in the four science courses offered in the Ben Davis curriculum.

All sciences are of utmost importance in these modern times. An ordinary household can't be managed without coming in contact with one of them. All medical, chemical, nuclear, and botanical jobs require a well-built foundation in the sciences.

For these reasons the Ben Davis Science Department has sought to expand and improve both teaching methods and laboratory equipment. In this expansion, two teachers were added, which raised the total number of science instructors to seven.

The science department, headed by Mr. Daryl Miller, boasts twenty-nine classes. Sixteen are biology; five, botany; three, physics; four, chemistry; and one, advanced chemistry.

In biology, Ben Davisites learn about animals, birds, fish, and insects. Students learn the techniques of dissection in their labs and practice on bees, grasshoppers, worms, and clams.

In botany, students collect and study plants, flowers, and trees. Chemistry students experiment with different chemical reactions and sometimes learn the hard way why acids should be handled with care.

Physics deals with studies in heat, light, sound, mechanics, electricity, and nuclear physics. As an extra this year, the physics classes took a class trip to Indiana University to see the cyclotron there.

By offering these courses to Ben Davisites, BDHS intends to prepare its students for the future.

These very pretty girls were part of a Gypsy number in the music festival. They are: (going clockwise starting at the top) Bonnie Paton,, Donna Huston, Sandra Wright, Carol Peck, Sandy Buckley, Toni Wills, Linda Baxter, Sanja Miner, Suzanne Claycomb, Joyce Booher, Pat Rogers, Charlene Walter and Mary Ann Sparks. Linda Kelly is in the middle.

music filled the air

One of the acts featured in this year's Senior Varieties was this ventriloquist act of Larry Conner and "friend." Richard Wallace was the Master of Ceremonies this year.

Mrs. Walker combines all the choirs in this number to produce a most effective sound. This is a scene from this year's music festival.

and we were young and gay

A hushed silence falls over the audience, the soft strains of the piano are heard in the background and suddenly the air is filled with the melodious voices of the Ben Davis Choir.

The choir did a splendid job in their presentations of "Oklahoma!" and the Music Festival this year.

This group, under the direction of Mrs. Lorna Walker, helped greatly in adding the finishing touch to the music festival as can be seen at the right. This particular number featured the A Cappella Choir.

Perhaps the department which proves to be most useful in later years in Home Economics. In these classes many phases of home life and care of the family are touched upon.

Home Ec. I and III include the study of cooking and preserving of food, while Home Ec. II and IV teach the art of sewing. A study of the problems of marriage and family living is basic in Home Ec. V. Family Relations is a course open to senior boys and junior or senior girls. Home Nursing procedures, delivery and care of a child are things of interest in Home Nursing which is Home Ec. VI.

The department has the duty of acquainting the pupil in the areas of making a home so that he is prepared to face the problems and the duties which arise in later life.

Doubtless, many will agree when looking back to high school days that Home Economics will have been helpful.

Mrs. Flora Faust demonstrates for four members of her sewing class how to sew a seam.

we prepared for life at home

Members of Mrs. Martha Welch's cooking class give a demonstration in food preparation.

Mr. Raleigh Roach, who is retiring from teaching this year, watches as Herb Radtke works on one of his drawings in mechanical drawing class. Mechanical drawing is one of the most popular courses in the Industrial Arts Department.

Herb Radtke (who seems to get in all the Industrial Arts pictures) works at a lathe as his instructor, Mr. Ray Hurt, observes.

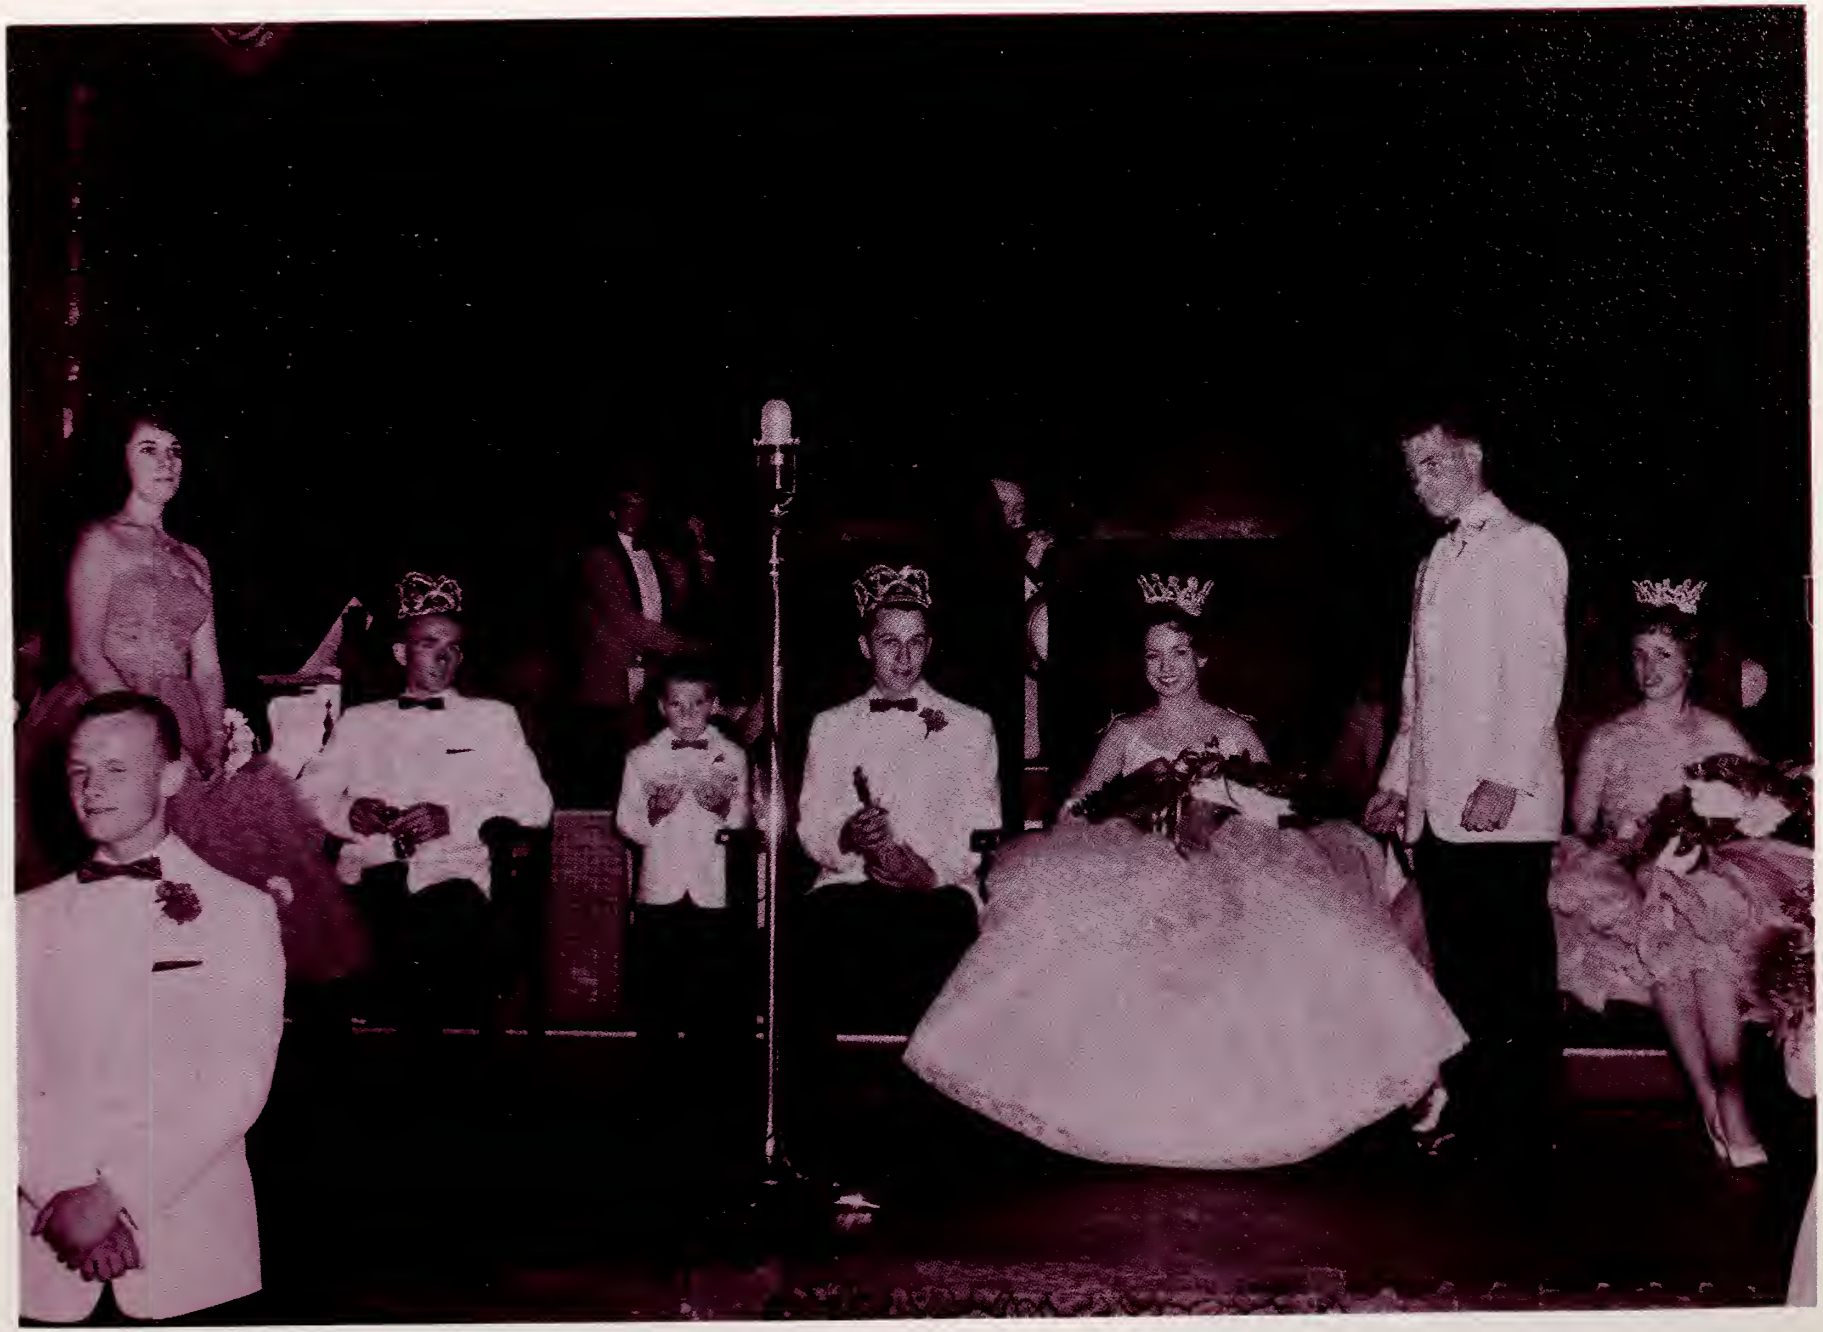

Industrial Arts can be just as important to many high school boys as English, math, science, or any other course. Many of the boys enrolled in shop classes use this knowledge for their life's vocation.

Nine hundred and twenty-three boys, taught by ten faculty members, are enrolled in Industrial Arts courses this year.

A new exhaust gas welding system, twelve inch grinder, drawing benches and instruments, lockers, and testing equipment have been added to the Industrial Arts Department.

Basic Wood and Basic Metal; Basic Machine Shop and Basic Electricity; Mechanical Drawing I, II, III, & IV; Auto Shop I & II; Wood Shop I & II; and Metal Shop I & II are offered at Ben Davis.

A student must have all four basic courses before he can take the advanced courses, and he must have the required mechanical drawing courses. Electric shop is required to take auto shop. Electronics, advanced electric shop, will be offered for the fall term of 1961.

Delores Frost, Queen of the Prom, dances away with her King, Curt Haas, to the lovely strains of "Stardust" which sounded suspiciously like "Three Coins in a Fountain."

The Prom...that once-a-year event that highlights a busy year and delights all study-weary students...that unforgettable evening when life becomes a fairy tale to cherish and hold close in our hearts...that enchanting evening when all ordinary friends and fellow students transform into wonderfully exciting princes and princesses...that mysterious evening when bumbling boys become dapper debonairs and well-groomed gentlemen...that sparkling evening when billowy, soft, swaying skirts float and swirl ever so softly, delicately under low, low lights through intricate patterns to the sweet melodies of songs such as "Stardust"...Ah! Sweet Memories!

The Coronation...when specially chosen students parade in the Grand March...when a flower girl, and trophy and crown bearers pose on stage with the Master of Ceremonies, George Wildman, and the Mistress of Ceremonies, Joyce Chitwood...when excitement and apprehension bubbles explosively inside us...when jubilation fills the air at the announcement that Delores Frost and Curt Haas are queen and king...when ecstasy breaks forth as Carolyn Crowe and Dave Spikes are proclaimed princess and prince...when the dance of royalty is lead by the royalty themselves, the attendants, the crown bearers, and the Master and Mistress of Ceremonies... These sights we will long remember.

Who can forget the gay atmosphere of flashing light bulbs, colorful spotlights, joyous laughter, mazes of tables, millions of friends, the splendor of evening gowns of grace and beauty in fountains of color, the mingling of the delicate scents from each dainty bouquet all reminisced by wistful students?

When the dance is over, the fun has just begun. Couples whirl from the Indiana Roof to various restaurants in and around the city for light snacks or full-course dinners. Then most couples return to their homes for a rest; however, some attend post-Prom parties lasting until dawn, followed by Prom breakfasts.

Rising early, BDites set out on a day-long picnic at any of the state parks. After tramping around on trails, fighting cold weather, rain, hail, and fatigue, the weary picnickers arrive home in the evening to sleep and to dream of and relive their exciting, once-a-year weekend.

the most enchanting evening of all

Where else could you find such an array of smiling faces except at the Junior-Senior Prom? Here several students anxiously await the evening's attractions.

when we paused awhile

The Master and Mistress of ceremonies of the Junior-Senior Prom this year were George Wildman and Joyce Chitwood.

Ah! The most glorious moment of the Prom has arrived!! George Wildman, Master of Ceremonies, places the glittering crown on the head of a lovely and radiant Delores Frost, Queen of our Ben Davis Prom!

Another highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Princess. Carolyn Crowe seems to be quietly proud as she wears the crown which proclaims her as our Princess for 1960.

we had a voice in school affairs

Similar to King Arthur's Knights of the Round Table, who met to discuss the problems of the people in medieval times, is Ben Davis's Student Council. The Council is a group of nineteen students chosen by Ben Davisites to represent each grade level of the student body.

Organized in 1954 by Blanchard Smith and Larry Axsom with purposes of encouraging leadership and providing a place for adequate student voice in student affairs, the Student Council has proceeded from that year to this, striving and advancing toward its goal.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Richard Apple and Mr. Howard Wood and the leadership of President Duane Wood, Secretary Ann Wechsler, and Treasurer Larry Carter, the Student Council has sponsored the Homecoming Parade and Dance, Hobo Day, Mid-Winter Whirl, Teacher Appreciation Day, Dress-Up Day, Spring elections, College Day, Career Day, and the Monitor System.

Other projects have been: purchasing a Christmas tree for the cafeteria, donating gifts to the school, buying water coolers, and establishing a Student Council scholarship fund. A new move of communication between the student body and Student Council has been devised this year also, suggestion boxes which have proved fairly effective.

"Will the meeting please come to order," says Duane Wood, president of the Ben Davis Student Council.

the ones who led in academics

An organization held in high esteem at B.D.H.S. is the National Honor Society. The group includes about 60 members who are juniors and seniors and ten probationary members who are sophomores.

To be eligible for membership, a student must not only have and maintain a high scholastic average, but he must possess the qualities of character, leadership, and service.

Organized in 1956, the club's purpose is to stimulate high scholarship, constructive leadership, service with a purpose, and a worthy character.

Far from being classed as a "dull" club, the group had a wiener roast and a picnic at Brown County State Park, sponsored an Honor Hop for students on the high honor roll for the semester, installed the Liberty Chapter of the National Honor Society at Clayton, Indiana, and initiated new members in a ceremony before the freshmen. The evening after the initiation, a banquet was given for all members and their parents in the Cafeteria.

By working in the concession stands, sponsoring sock-hops, and phoning in election results, the group earned money for a scholarship for a college-bound senior.

Presiding over the monthly meetings were: Tom Howald, president; Linda Boss, vice-president; Marcia Good, secretary; and Tom Pearson, treasurer. Sponsoring this active club were: Miss Olive Carruthers, Mr. Robert Seeman, and Mrs. Helen Poince.

Mr. James Ray watches as his News Bureau staff works on stories to be presented to the city newspapers for publication. Sally Katzenberger was head of this group that had as its main objective to inform the community of news concerning Ben Davis High School.

Quill and Scroll, a club for honorary high school journalists, is an incentive to many pupils who are interested in writing. The club originated in 1926. Qualifications for membership are a high scholastic rating, qualities in leadership, and outstanding work in the journalism field, are the qualifications one must possess to become a member.

The purpose of the club is to recognize good work in high school publications and to better the relations between student body and publications.

The monthly meetings of the Ben Davis Chapter of Quill and Scroll are under the direction of Mr. James Ray.

During the year the club sponsored the cartoon and writing contests. Also, the gold and silver key awards were presented by the Quill and Scroll. This year the Ben Davis Chapter was host at the annual Publications Banquet.

The officers for 1959-60 were as follows: President, Sally Katzenberger; Vice-President, Anna Moore; Secretary, Kay Wills; Treasurer, Stan Walker, and Sergeant-at-Arms, Jerry Carroll.

by members of the fourth estate

The Spotlight, the school paper, keeps the pupils and faculty informed on school news, entertains its readers, and helps direct public opinion through editorials. The Spotlight is a six-page issue which is published bi-weekly.

In the fall Anna Moore, editor; Stan Walker, news editor; Ruth Ann Barksdale, feature editor; Danny Laser, sports editor, and Lena Pfisterer worked with Mr. Ray, sponsor, in making the paper a success. The second semester offices are Editor Stan Walker, News Editor Sally Katzenberger, Feature Editor, Ruth Ann Barksdale, Curt Criss, sports editor, and Lena Pfisterer, business editor.

The requirements for any junior or senior wishing to become a member of the Spotlight is to maintain an A or B average in journalism.

This organization for the past two years had sponsored the Harvest Swing dance. This year the dance was called "The Roaring Twenties" and King Jon Ingleman and Queen Connie Kempster reigned over all.

The Editor in Chief of the Spotlight first semester was Anna Moore, who did a fine job in producing a "Grade A" paper.

the dedicated group of 'Keyhole Kids'

The last day of school has arrived! Hurrah! But when school is out for everyone else, there is still a group of people coming to school every day and working busily--the Keyhole Staff!

There is much work to be done by the Keyhole Staff even after school is out. There's the rounding up of spring sport's records, getting the results from Honor Day awards and getting the names of boys who were given awards on athlete day.

Although there's much time, energy and money spent in the production of the yearbook, when August 15 rolls around we all know it was well worth it!

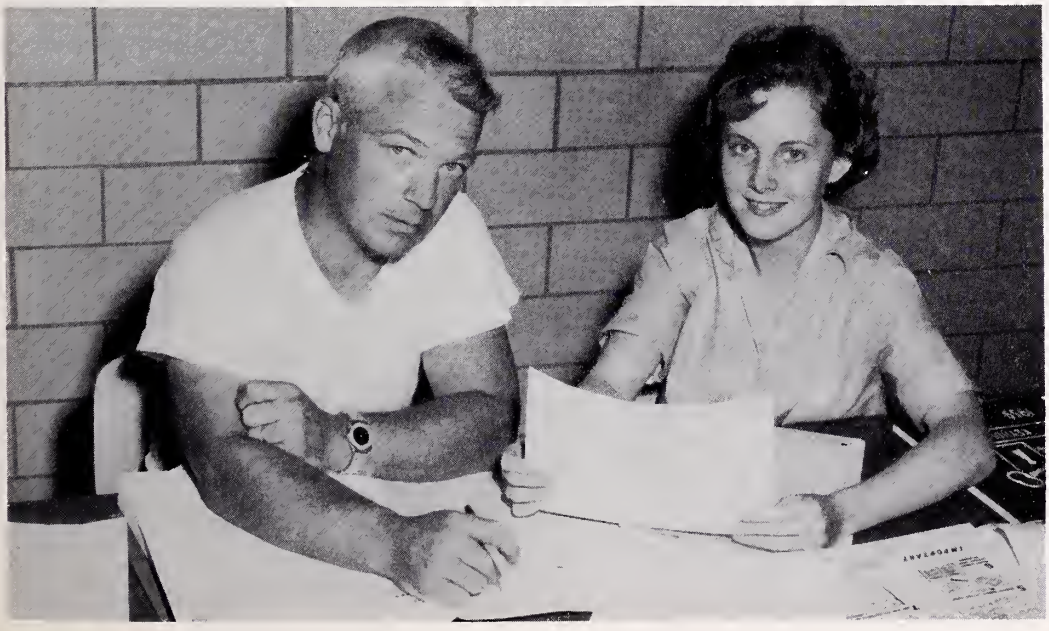

Marjorie Wetzel and Mary Ann Spahr type up the copy while Patty Cottey studies the pictures of the Spring Festival.

Sue Kinnaird, our Copy Editor, checks over some of the final copy presented to her by Mary Ann Spahr and Patty Cottey during her lunch hour.

Mr. Fisher, our advisor, and Editor Patty Cottey pause for a moment during the final, frantic days before we sent this Keyhole to press. It was hard work, but it was fun.

From Thespus, who was the first real actor and who started the acting precedent by breaking away from a group of chanting Greek priests, we derive the word, "Thespians."

Thespians is the honor group of the Mask and Gavel Club. Eligibility for membership may be achieved by first becoming a Mask and Gavel Club member, then by earning ten points by doing such things as ushering, selling tickets, acting, building and painting scenery, and numerous other stage jobs. Those who have earned their ten points are then voted on by the entire Thespian group for membership.

Initiations into the club are twice a year. They consist of the prospective members having to memorize a portion of Hamlet and then reciting the selection before the Mask and Gavel Club members.

Only Thespian members and N.F.L. members are eligible to be officers of the Mask and Gavel Club. Like the Mask and Gavel Club and N.F.L., The Thespians are sponsored by Mr. Donald Hansell and Mr. Bob Hughes.

how inspiring the music

'Oh the farmer and the cowman should be friends." Members of the A Cappella join together to sing a song in "Oklahoma."

With the production of Oklahoma, this year's A Cappella Choir has brought honor and many favorable comments to Ben Davis.

Fifty-one members make up this year's A Cappella Choir who participate in many activities such as concerts, contests, tours, festivals, and convocations throughout the year. The members give up a great deal of their time to practice outside of school for appearances; but in return the choir is rewarded by the many comments they receive.

The choir made approximately twenty-four public performances.

To become a member of the choir, a person must have average grades, be willing to devote extra time, have a basic idea of tone production, show interest in music, and maintain good attendance at school and rehearsals.

The future members, who at the present are the trainees of the A Cappella Choir are the Girls' Choir, made up of girls who meet one period a day; the Cadet Choir, who are made up of both boys and girls who would like to further their singing career and advance to the A Cappella Choir.

Each year on Honor Day an award is given to the most outstanding member of the choir. This year's award was presented to Judy Kochrn by the choir director, Mrs. Lorna Walker.

Indiana's finest music department

These are the members of the Ben Davis orchestra. Among other activities, the orchestra participated in this year's Music Festival, the baccalaureate, and the commencement exercises.

A shrill whistle, enthusiastic shouts, and a spirited drum cadence all characterize the Ben Davis Marching Giants.

This 155 member band has brought many high honors to the school and pupils.

Outstanding achievements this year included winning first place at the Riverview Park Tournament of Music at Chicago, and second place at the Indiana State Fair. Appearances made by the band were at Churchill Downs in Louisville, Kentucky and the Tulip Festival at Holland, Michigan. The band also led the 500 Festival Parade, and they appeared as a guest band at the 500 Mile Race.

The band under the direction of Mr. Ralph Chandler has made a name for itself as a concert band and as a marching band. The name of Ben Davis is truly remembered by many who have seen the Giants strut their stuff.

One, and-a-two, and-a-three! This downbeat pattern is very familiar to the outstanding musicians in the Ben Davis Dance Band which is under the direction of Mr. Gene Smith.

During this past year, the dance band received a first division rating at the Indiana School Music Association Contest. This award brought esteem to the members of the band and a great honor to Ben Davis High School.

Many appearances have marked the calendar for the dance band. A few of these engagements were the Ben Davis Homecoming Dance, Zionsville Band Dance, Manual Military Ball, Annual Dance Band Tour, Spring Festival, and the privilege of performing at the Holland Tulip Festival.

This group has done much during the year to distinguish themselves and the school.

Our head Drum Majorette, Peg Savage.

There's a great deal of excitement in the air. The football players are out on the field warming up for the game and the cheerleaders are practicing their "yells." The crowd in general is discussing the prospects of the game.

All at once the talking stops and the football players leave the field. A familiar sound is heard in the background. It's the drumbeat of the Ben Davis Marching Giants led by the Head Majorette, Peg Savage.

The band comes in sight and following Peggy are seven very pretty Majorettes, who are Sharon Major, Joyce Cox, Carl Melenchuck, Kathy Brown, and Patty Pruett, Seniors; Sandy Kinney and Lynn Schwartz, Juniors.

Our Ben Davis Majorettes not only added much color to our football games, but they also were an attraction in the 500 Parade, the 500 race, the show in Holland Michigan and, also, the Music Festival at Ben Davis.

The Flag Corps and Bellaires, also, caught many an eye in these events.

The auxiliary group of Ben Davis with their talent and good looks have brought much attention and fame to our Marching Giant Band.

The winning float in this year's annual homecoming parade was built by the Latin Club.

"When in Rome, do as the Romans do," goes the song. But Roman ways aren't practiced in Rome alone!

Why, right here at B.D. pupils can watch and participate in Roman activities, such as: the S.P.Q.R.'s initiation, the slave sale, Roman election, state convention, festival of Ceres, national convention in Albuquerque, and the Saturnalia, a winter festival.

However, the biggest event of the Latin club's year is the Roman Banquet; "A Roman Wedding" was the '59-'60 theme. Besides dining in a reclining position and savoring rare delicacies, the modern Romans were treated with a Latin play.

B.D. Romans also won the first place trophy for the best float in the Homecoming Parade.

S.P.Q.R., begun by the 1926 Caesar class and now sponsored by Mrs. Rena Rosenberry, Mrs. Shirley Lynch, and Mrs. Helen Wampler, now has a membership of about 200 of the 335 pupils taking Latin. Being organized like the Roman State itself, the club imitates Roman life, thereby teaching its members about Roman life and customs.

S.P.Q.R. projects for 1959-60 have been: serving the Lion's Club, donating toys and food to needy families at Christmas, and contributing to a scholarship fund for a future Latin teacher.

a fine game for intellectuals

There is one old game that will never grow "too old" at Ben Davis.. That game is chess. There are several students at Ben Davis who are either interested in the fine points of this game and would like to play it. And in order for these students to get better acquainted with the game, Ben Davis has organized a Chess Club.

The chess club, under the direction of Mr. Jose Davilla, has a purpose for its club. It is to teach students the art of playing chess and to further the interest of students in a good game.

The president of this year's club was Larry Henderson.

During the past year the activities of the club included singing at Christmas time at the Tall Cedars Nursing Home, giving food and clothing to a needy family at Thanksgiving, and organizing a show for the Fall Festival. The highlight of the Sunshine activities is the annual Spring dance which is held in the high school cafeteria. The theme of this year's dance was "My Blue Heaven." Bonnie Paton, sophomore reigned as queen through the enchanting evening.

the boys' top Christian organization

One of Ben Davis's all-boy clubs which is striving each year for bigger and better things is the Ben Davis Hi-Y Club.

The club's purpose, to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school, home, and community, high standards of Christian living and character, was established in 1889 when the first Hi-Y Club was organized by Davis F. Shirk, in Chapman, Kansas.

Among the Hi-Y's activities have been the sponsoring of a record hop after the Plainfield game, participating in the Activities Night at the Westside Y.M.C.A., making a gift of some food to a needy family at Christmas, and taking an active part in the Model United Nations in the General Assembly in the Capitol building in Indianapolis. Officers in the 1959-60 Hi-Y are: Bill Ford, president; Bob Warren, vice-president; Allan Abbott, secretary; Bill Warren, treasurer; Curt Haas, sergeant-at-arms; and Larry Carter, chaplain.

Rallies, movies, pizza parties and quizzes are all a wonderful part of the activities in the Youth For Christ Club.

This year's Youth For Christ Club, under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Shuler, had approximately one-hundred and fifty members.

The officers for this year were: Jerry Carroll, president; Howard Harmon, vice-president; Donna Buzzird, second vice-president; Delores Frost, secretary; Kay Wills, treasurer; and Jo Ann Miller, club reporter.

Billy Zeoli was a guest speaker at a few of the meetings this year. The regular club sponsor is Jack Riley.

"Teenage Rock," a religious movie, was shown at the school this year, and it drew an attendance of approximately 200.

we learned to act, discuss, and debate

"Speak the speech I pray you...." This quote could well be the motto of the National Forensics League, or in shortened form, N.F.L., which makes up a major part of the Mask and Gavel Club.

To enter N.F.L., a student must earn 25 points through participation in speech contests with other schools. Students may enter the following divisions: original oratory, dramatic interpretation, humorous interpretation, girls and boys extemporaneous, radio announcing, debate, discussion, oratorical declamation, and poetry.

The N.F.L.'s 1959-60 activities have included participation in a series of speech contests and debates which ranged from New Castle and Purdue to cities in Southern Indiana. Also novel to N.F.L. is a newly formed debate league involving Marion County school and Columbus High School. As a result, B.D. won third place in the debate section of the Ball State Contest.

B.D.'s varsity debate team placed second in the state contest; the sub-varsity team won a rewarding first place at the Muncie meet. However, N.F.L.'s greatest honor was receiving a second place trophy for the state N.F.L. sweepstakes.

An added attraction begun this year is the fact that N.F.L.'ers with 150 or more points received special N.F.L. letters to be worn on jacket sweaters.

who deserves credit for our athletic success

Muscles, skill, confidence, and talent are all factors which go into making up the members of our Lettermen's Club.

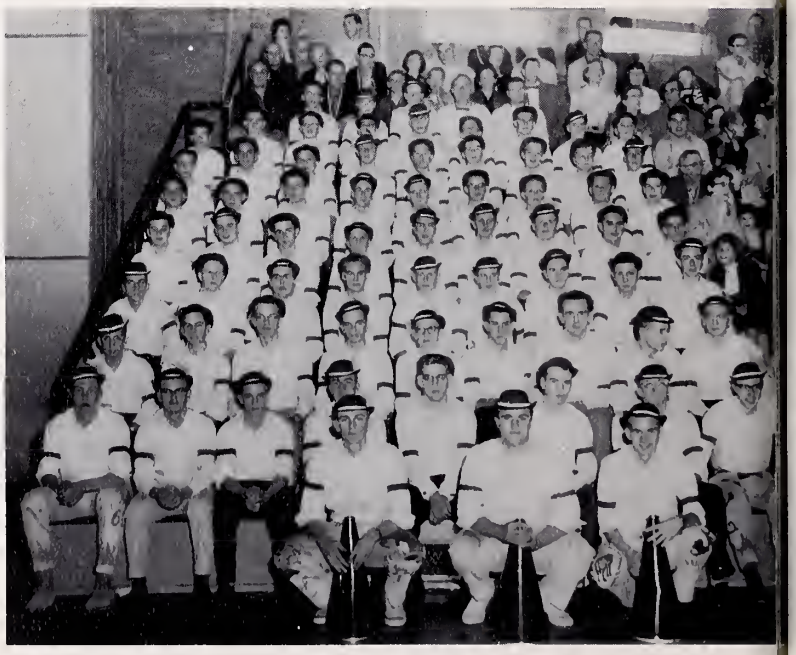

This year's Lettermen's Club consisted of 90 members. The officers who were elected by the members are Dave Huston, president; Curt Haas, vice-president; Bill Rogers, treasurer; and Mike Chaplin, secretary.

To be eligible to be in the Lettermen's Club, a boy must have at least one Varsity Letter in any sport.

This year's Lettermen's Club, under the direction of Mr. Gerald Brown were very active. Some of the activities which they participated in were: a Lettermen's Club Dance, which was open to the public, a Lettermen's Club Dinner, which was for only the members, record hops, rope detail at basketball games, and during football season, they operated the concession stands.

All and any profits that are made are used to help support the athletic Injury Insurance Program.

The purpose of the Lettermen's Club is to promote sportsmanship and cooperation among the athletes of Ben Davis through common projects and common objectives other than those set forth on the athletic field.

"Fight, Fight, Fight! Yah Team, Fight!" This is one of the many yells performed by our boys' booster club, Big Ben's Boys.

"Oh, a strike!"

"Oh dear, there goes another one right down the gutter!"

Do these phrases sound familiar? If so, then you must be one of the 128 members in the Ben Davis Bowling Club.

This year the Bowling Club contained 128 members in September, but at the end of the season the membership consisted of 110.

The officers are: Dick Merritt, president; Peg Savage, vice-president; Judy Roberts and Ann Wechsler, secretaries; and Ronnie Wheeler, treasurer.

On Honor Day four outstanding bowlers were given awards, they were: Peg Savage and Phyllis Cox, outstanding girl bowlers; Jack Rardin and Dick Dowdell, outstanding boy bowlers.

The club participated in a Christmas Tournament, which was sponsored by the Indianapolis Junior Bowling Congress.

The National and City Tournament was held in the spring and a banquet was given to climax the season.

There are several advantages of being in the Bowling Club. It is worthy use of leisure time, it's relaxful and a good exercise, it's a worth-while activity which can carry over into adult life and most important, it teaches cooperation.

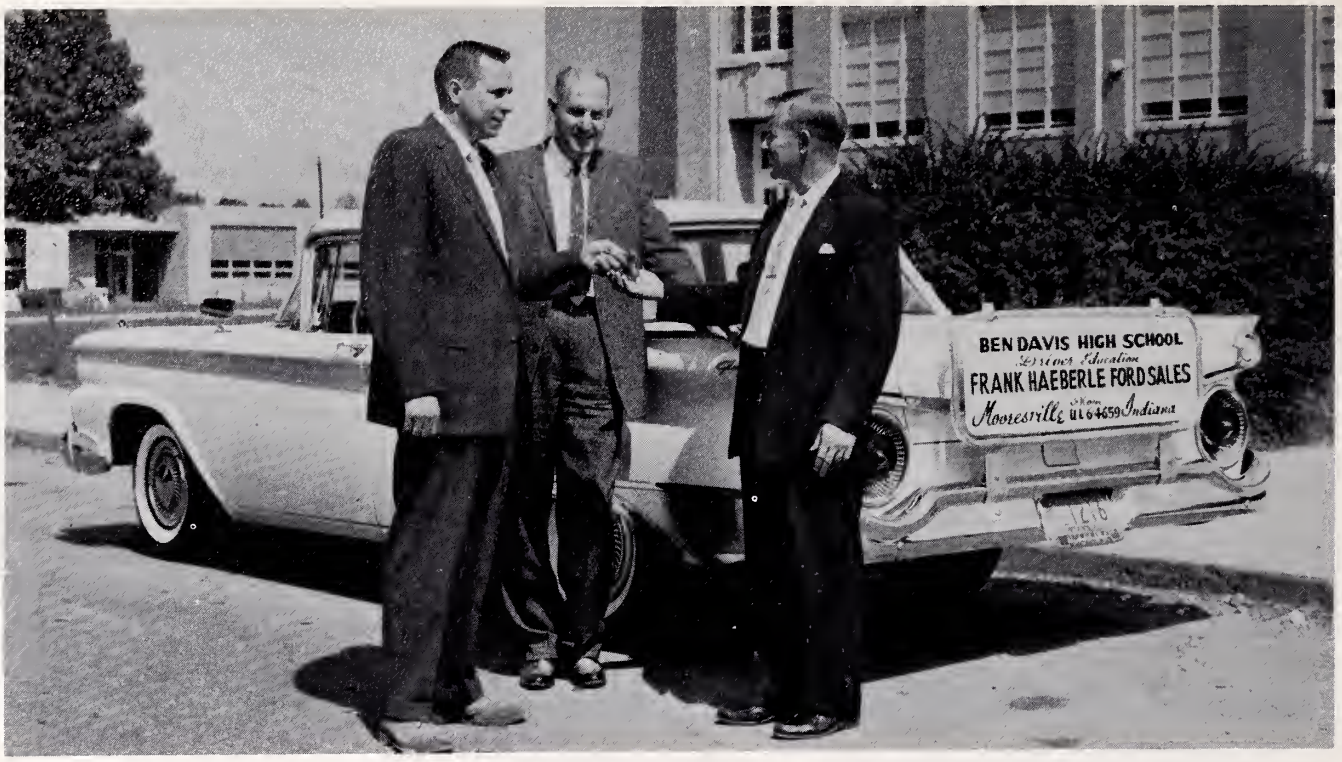

This year's Bowling Club was Sponsored by Mr. Charles Carpenter.

the help from many sources

Vivian Martin receives help in choosing a good college to attend from Mr. Richard Apple, head of the guidance department.

One of the more recently organized clubs at Ben Davis that is now entering its second year is the national honorary society of Mu Alpha Theta.

This nation-wide organization has a simple purpose: to give honor to those students who have strived and excelled in mathematics courses.

To attain membership, juniors and seniors who have maintained B average in their math classes may submit their names for consideration. Those eligible are then voted on by the present members, and the initiates become members during a candlelight service.

The officers of B.D.'s Mu Alpha Theta, which was begun in 1957-58 by Miss Nina Martin, are: Steve Coppock, president; Marcia Good, vice-president; and Kay Wills, secretary-treasurer. The society is sponsored by Miss Nina Martin.

how important was our math

Who says math can't be fun? The Trialge Club, B.D.H.S.'s math club, has proved to its members that math can be fun.

By presenting new phases of math at each meeting and by encouraging members to bring puzzling math problems to these meetings, the club stimulates an interest in math.

This year's 30 members, officiated over by Tom Pearson, president; Larry Henderson, vice-president; Betty Thompson, secretary; Robert Rigdon, treasurer; and Miss Nina Martin, sponsor, have taken part in a number of activities. Among these are: Decorating the Christmas tree in the Cafeteria, taking a trip to Indiana U., having a banquet in the spring for pupils who excel in their math subjects, and presenting these outstanding pupils with certificates, commending their achievements.

The only requirements of the club are to be in a math class or to have completed a minor in math.

office help is needed at B. D.

An office receptionist's job at Ben Davis High School is not the easiest, but it is one of the most important and rewarding jobs that a high school student can perform. Answering telephones, typing, taking dictation, running errands, and operating the PBX board all fill the one period which the office girl works.

This experience is valuable to the girls who plan to later enter this field of business and to pursue secretarial careers. They are guided by Mrs. Alice Harker, the school secretary and office supervisor.

To qualify as an office assistant, a girl must have maintained average grades in school subjects, and she also must have a pleasant personality and plenty of ambition.

The course was started to provide help for the office personnel and to lessen their burden of duties; and also it is to offer practical application of office knowledge to junior and senior girls who have successfully completed commercial courses. This gives them an opportunity to prepare themselves for later jobs.

Members of the regular office staff were: ROW ONE: Sandy Kinney, Carolyn Crowe, Tonda Pemberton, Shirley Sloan, Eileene Taylor, Sarah Jane Clendening, and Sue Farr. Teacher's pets? No. These girls are the teachers' helpers. The office girls of Ben Davis handle many tasks that might otherwise prove a burden to Mrs. Alice Harker who is the school secretary and office supervisor.

Being an office girl includes many tasks such as answering the phone, running errands, taking messages and many other details.

Another secretarial job at Ben Davis is the department secretaries. Mrs. Jessie Kirk, head of the Commerce Department, assigns a student who is in business training to each department to take care of such secretarial duties as answering correspondence, typing tests, or taking dictation.

Janet McWilliams receives the finest in first aid from three clinic girls.

"Oh, I've got a toothache!" "Call an ambulance, I've cut my knee!" "Have you got any band-aids?"

These are only a few of the many requests and complaints that greet the ears of the clinic staff.

Day after day the clinic girls faithfully help their fellow students with first aid and comforting conversation.

There are many more duties aside from just giving first aid though. These girls have to first learn each medicine what it's used for, and how to use them. They have to keep them each in a certain place and make sure the cabinet they're in is neat and clean.

By working in the clinic the staff learns much about first aid and this may help some to become future nurses. They, also, meet a lot of new kids. But as most clinic girls will tell you, they usually see the same old faces.

and the Book Den was big business

As most of us realize, the Book Den is indispensable. It has become vital to the efficient handling of the finances of our school and school activities. Due credit must go to Mr. Philip Trees, head of the Book Den, and his student assistants.

Duties in the Book Den are not only waiting on customers, but such jobs as bookkeeping, counting money from cafeteria lines, and making change at lunch time are equally important in the efficient operation of the Book Den.

This year approximately 25 girls assisted Mr. Trees in these various duties.

Honesty, integrity, neatness in appearance and, of course, grades are vital in the selection of these helpers.

Sandy Breedlove and Sue Kinnaird wind up their day's work in the Book Den by counting the money.

where we could read and study

"It's time out for a spot o'tea," says Mary Alice Hicks to Mr. Tiwiliger. Each year the Library has a tea for the teachers, complete with tea and doughnuts. It looks like Mr. Davila is counting out the doughnuts.

Books, pamphlets, and magazines are found in the Ben Davis Library. The library has many books which are used by the pupils for references on term papers, for book reports, or for enjoyment.

Also there is a Library Science course offered to freshmen who have been recommended by their grade school librarians. Approximately 25-30 girls are enrolled each year.

The first semester consists of projects, assignments, tests, and other characteristics of a regular classroom course. During the second semester the girls are assigned to practical work. Both semesters are required for the one credit.

In the sophomore year, the girls are eligible for service credits. They serve as senior student librarians working at the circulation desk and other interesting duties.

Upon graduation, the pupils who have completed this course are presented with an honor pin for their service.

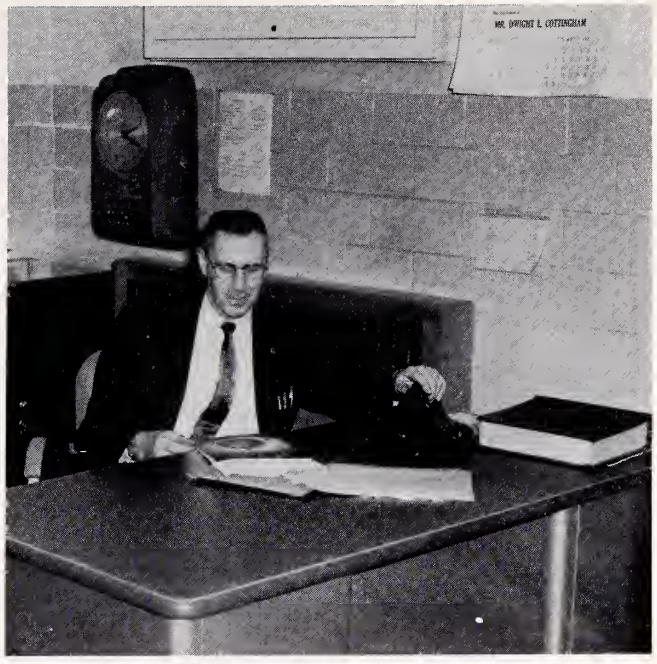

The library is very helpful to all the pupils and faculty of the school. Mrs. Louise Williams, Miss Nell Cuff, and Mrs. Roberta Harmon direct the functions of the library and help the pupils find materials.

Knowledge, experience, and leadership are just a few of the many benefits received by pupils in the 4-H.

This organization, under the guidance of Mr. Dwight Cottingham and Mrs. Margaret Shuler, provides an opportunity for anyone interested in 4-H work to show his ability. Various projects are undertaken during the year in many fields, and if a pupil desires he can enter a project in the Indiana State Fair.

After a boy or girl has been in 4-H for two or more years he or she qualifies to become a junior leader. The duty of a junior leader is to supervise and aid the younger members with their projects.

Honors and many opportunities are received by members for their efforts through the year. Many fields of interest are open to boys and girls of all ages through 4-H; also a camping program is offered. During the last of July a junior camp and a senior camp provides supervised recreation and fun for all.

Mr. Dwight Cottingham, 4-H Sponsor, takes time out from his busy schedule to let us take this picture. Mr. Cottingham is the head of the agricultural department in 4-H.

Sports

Mr. Howard Williams, Athletic Director, pauses from one of his many duties as the head of the Athletic Department of Ben Davis High School.

that top flight coaching means victory

Guiding our athletic teams this year was this group of coaches: LEFT TO RIGHT: Woodrow Baker, Wendell Hine, John Bradley, James Hobson, Evan Fine, Woodrow Staton, Trent Gipson, Kenneth Cox, Marion Fine, Joe Preda, Bob Britt, Howard Williams, Athletic Director; and Robert Dunbar.

Helping the basketball coaches were the following Student Managers: David Cochran, James Watson, Steve Schorling, and Bill Fields.

To a coach, there is one person who can do more to help him than any other. That helper is the Student Manager. He is the coach's right hand man, saving him many of the time-consuming tasks that accompany the coaching of any sport.

Here at Ben Davis, we are fortunate to have a group of well trained, hustling Student Managers. Eager to help in anyway--taping ankles, shining equipment, picking up towels, and any of the other hundreds of things they may be asked to do.

Although some people may think that theirs is a thankless job, the managers know that they are an integral part of every team Ben Davis puts on the field, and they are often just as important as the playing stars.

Determination? Dedication? Perseverance? What is it?

In athletics there is an intangible "something" that separates the ordinary player from the star. Some boys are born with a world of talent and never make the grade. Others are born with far less talent and become great. Those who follow athletics closely cannot define this "something" any better than anyone else, but they can often see whether a boy 'has it'. And what a joy it is to coach a boy who is not content to be run-of-the-mill.

Here at Ben Davis High, the coaches in three sports were fortunate when a quiet, unassuming little guy proved to them and the fans that he had that certain "something" to be better than average. Not much for size (Coach Hine said that he ran in front so that the officials could find him) he made up for any lack of talent by simply refusing to be beaten. When he graduated this year, he took with him more awards than any other athlete in recent history, plus the highest award Ben Davis can give, the Top Athlete Award. Here Mr. Williams presents an award blanket to a truly fine B.D. star athlete--Dave Huston.

top performance means top awards

The Booster Club presents two awards each year, one to the most outstanding senior athlete in football and one to the best in basketball.

The award is based on skill, ability, sportsmanship and "coachability," and it reflects the fans approval of the winner for what he has done for Ben Davis.

This year, after keeping us in suspense for a while, the president of the Booster Club, Prissy Dillow, presented the awards, not to two athletes, but to just one. At the right, Duane Wood receives both awards. You've got to be quite a guy to win them both!

Coach, Wendell Hine "clocks" Dave Huston whose many hours of practice paid off by helping him to break the school record on the two-mile Cross Country Course.

In the fall you can find a bunch of hardy young Ben Davisites willing to endure the heat and dust and the grueling two mile run that makes up the sport called Cross Country. Probably the toughest test of endurance in all track sports, Cross Country is growing in popularity here as well as in other schools across the state.

This year's team did not win the county championship but they made good progress, according to coach Wendy Hine. One runner, Dave Huston, made coach Hine particularly proud when he broke all existing school records in this exhausting two mile run.

that sacrifice and the will to win

In the middle of August in the heat and dust of the practice field, new Head Coach, Mr. Woodrow Baker, welcomed about 120 aspiring athletes for the 1959 football team. With Mr. Baker was a new assistant coach, Mr. Jerry Brown, and together they began to build a new team around the returning lettermen that they had. When school opened about half of the boys who had reported were left and the 1959 Giants were ready for their first game.

They played Lebanon first and were defeated 25 to 0. Following through their schedule, they lost to Southport, beat Warren Central and Carmel, lost to North Central and Sacred Heart, tied Manual, and lost to Washington before winning their final game with Decatur Central.

Captains for this year's team were Ray Rippy and Jon Ingleman. Short on depth and experience, they never quit and gave promise of better things to come. Some 28 men with experience will return to Coach Baker and he feels that we will have more to shout about in 1960.

Reserve Coach, Mr. Trent Gipson's boys ended the season with a .500 average.

Whoa! Ted Proctor stops Jack Etchison in the Southport game.

(The Keyhole staff feels that a word of apology is needed here. The football team's first pictures were "fogged" and could not be used. These pictures are the best we could do under the circumstances. It will not happen again.)

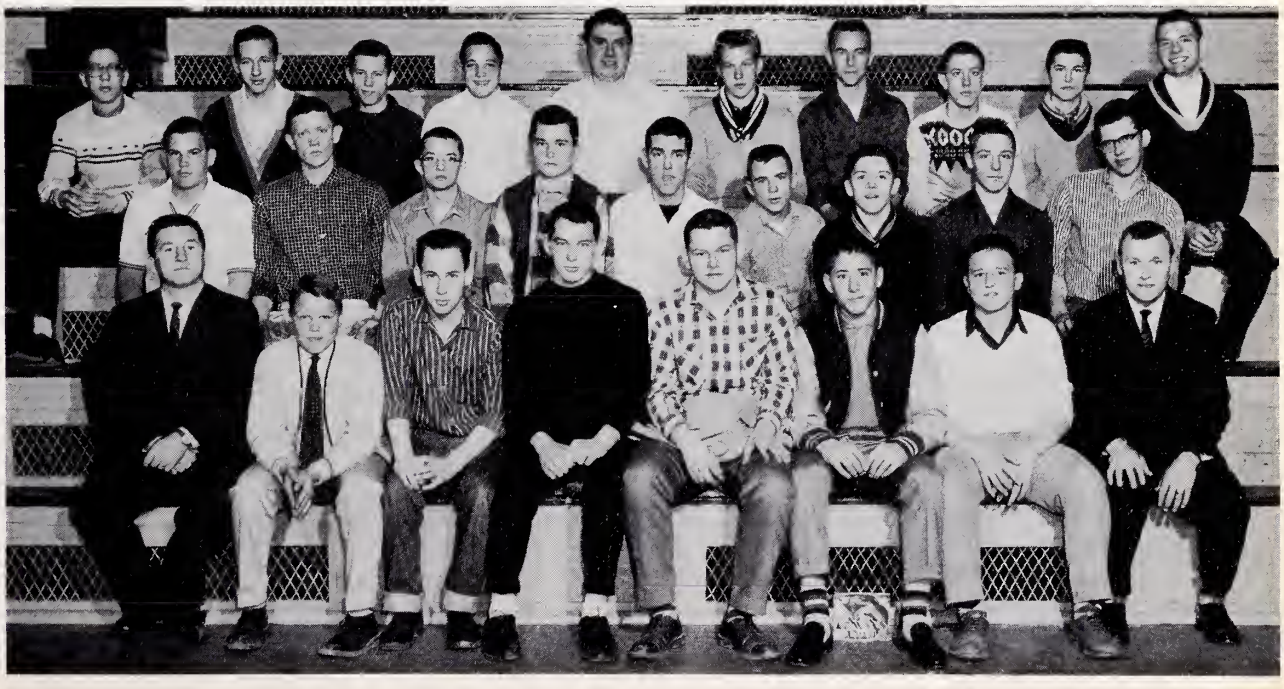

The Freshman Football team had about 80 boys reporting to Coach Evan Fine and his assistant, Joe Preda. Heat and dust took their toll and when the season began, some 35 players were left. Coach Fine says that this about normal, football being the rough, tough, and demanding game that it is.

Their record was 4 wins and 3 losses. This is respectable in a school that does not have a "feeder system" of boys that have engaged in contact sports.

The boys gained a lot of valuable experience and will undoubtedly give the Varsity a lot of help next year.

our fighting Giants show promise

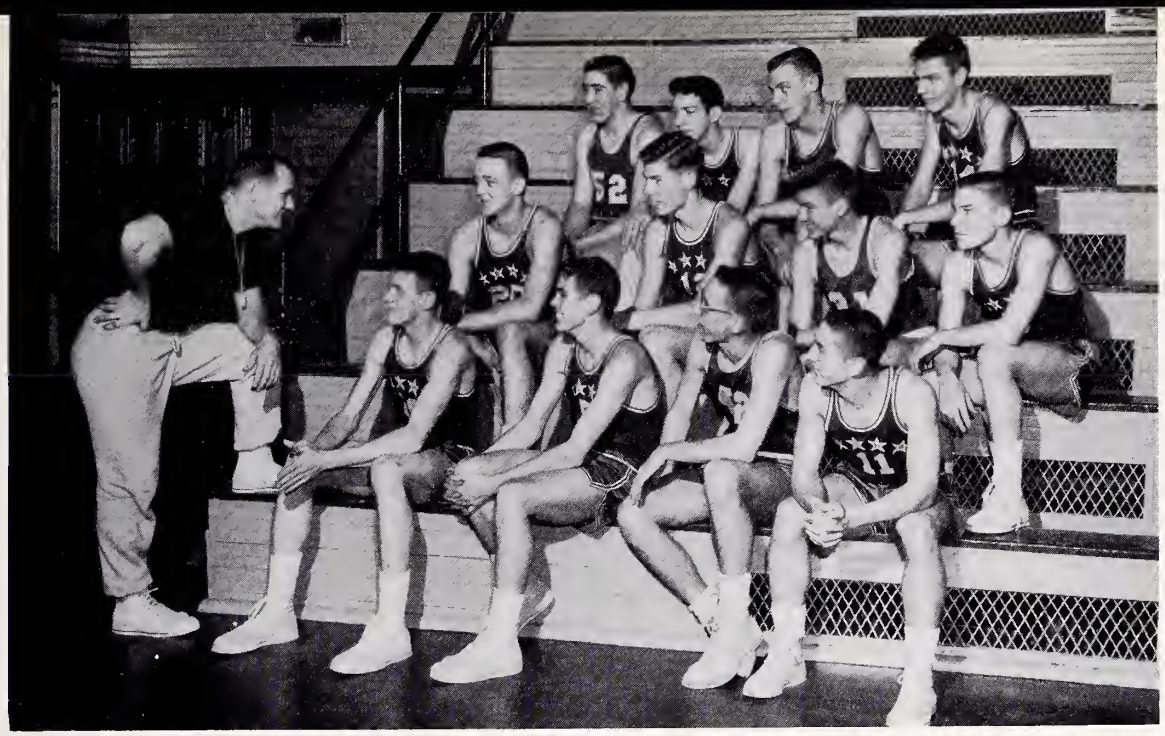

On the bench, Ben Davis Coach and players watch as their team passes the ball around. Team members on the floor are Dave Spikes (32); Jim Good (41); and Garry Simmons (51).

No school can lose seven of its first ten and come back the next year just as strong as before. However, Head Coach Marion Fine and his brother, Assistant Coach Evan Fine worked diligently and soon had the 1959-60 Giants' basketball team working smoothly.

Led by Senior guard Duane Wood, and Senior forward Bill Rogers, Ben Davis got "respectable" in short order. By County Tourney time they could go with the best of them.

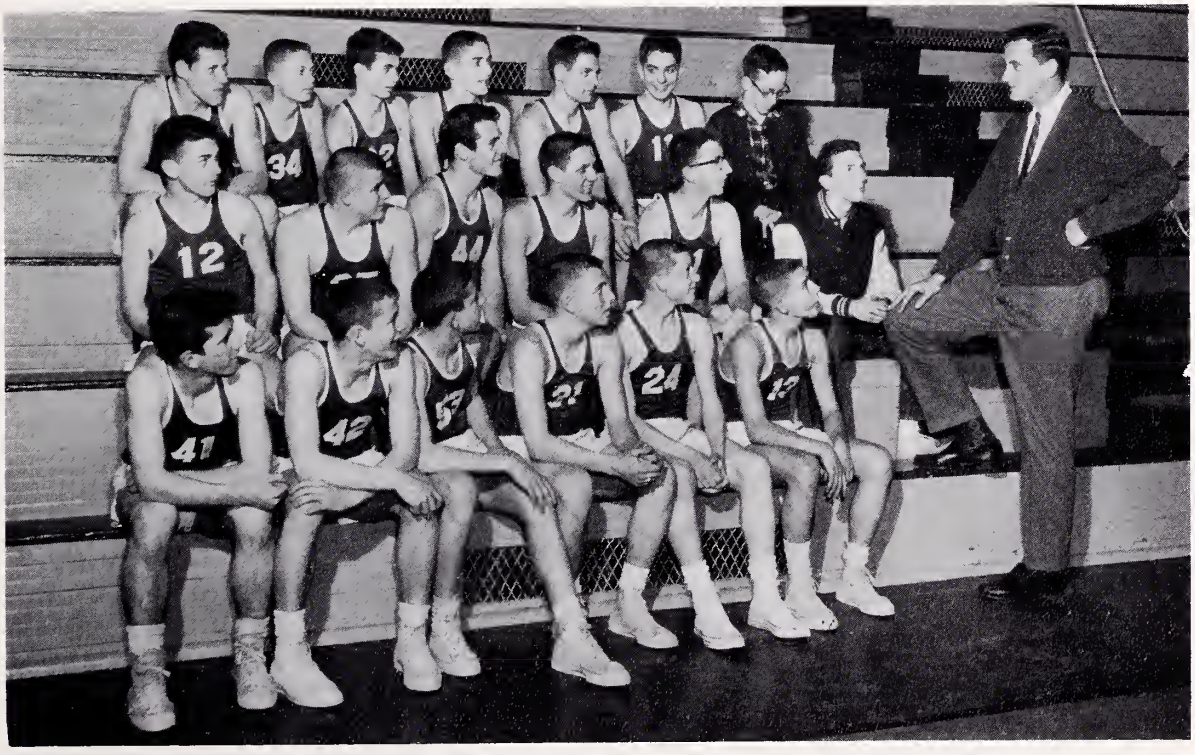

These Giants were young--eight of the first ten will be back next year--and this year of seasoning may just give our Ben Davis High School the finest team in this area of fine teams.

Their record this year was 12 wins and 12 losses. Next year figures to be a good one if they continue to improve as much as they did this year.

in our national pastime

Baseball teams at Ben Davis have a reputation for being strong every year. Even in years that follow heavy graduation losses they come up with a good representative team.

This year was no exception. Following the loss of seven varsity starters from the 1959 County Champs, Coach Trent Gipson inserted seven sophomores into his line-up and with hard work and good coaching was able to "break even," winning six and losing six.

Coach Gipson says that since he loses only the Warren brothers through graduation, his 1961 team should be a top contender for the County Championship.

The Reserve and Freshman teams were very strong and can be counted on to add a lot to varsity strength next year.

Two brothers on the Varsity team are Bill and Bob Warren.

Golf gains in popularity

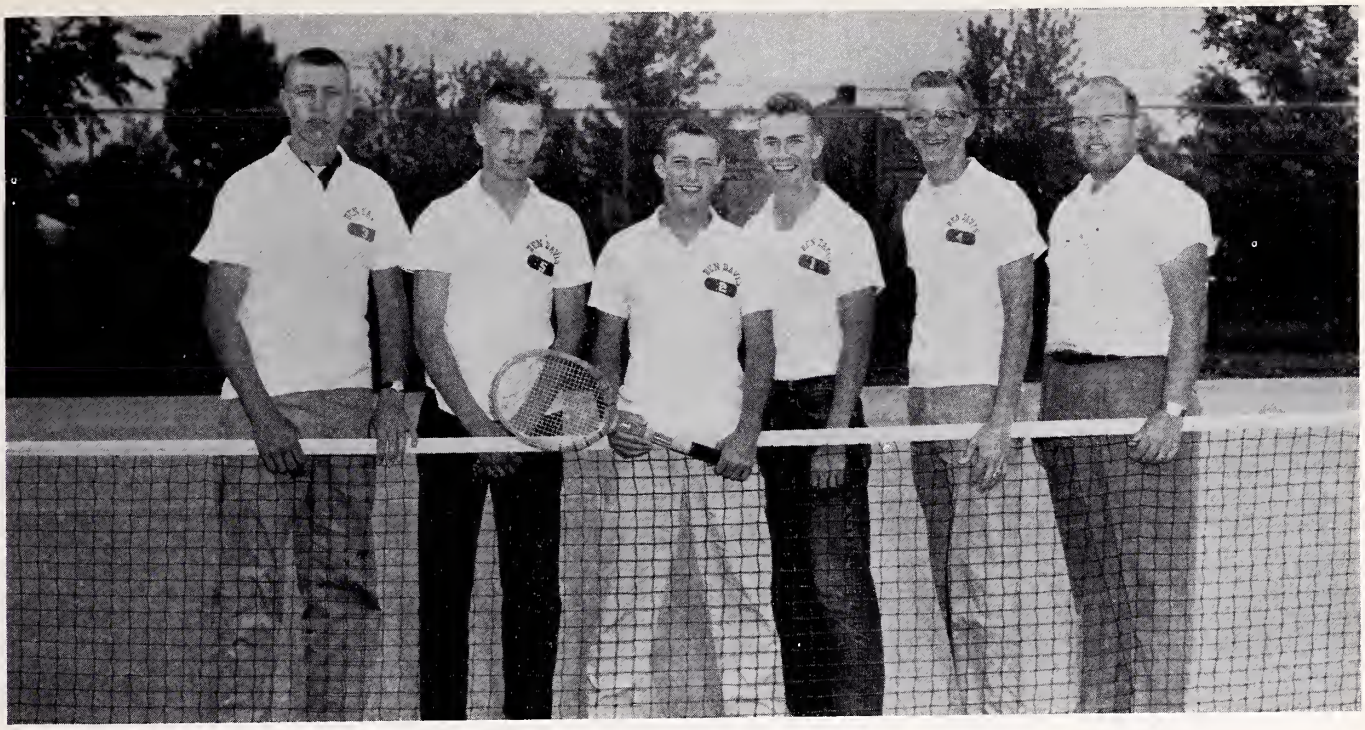

Spring brings out mushrooms and golfers in about equal numbers. Every year there are more and more golfers taking to the links to chase that little white ball over the pasture. Here at Ben Davis many teachers as well as students like to play and the Golf Team reflects the general interest in the sport.

Ben Davis has had many fine golfers and golf teams. This year was no exception. Made up entirely of underclassmen, their record was five won and only three lost.

Don Pless watches as Jim Good practices his wedge shots. Jim was number-one man on this year's team and will be back next year.

and our Racquet Squad improves rapidly

Richard Wallace waits for the return of Ted Winning's serve.

Tennis is a sport that is gaining rapidly in popularity all over the country. Ben Davis is no exception. Our athletes have found that it is fast, demanding, and exciting. Since we have new hard-surface courts and an able coach in Mr. Robert Lee, the schools in this area can begin to count on our Giants' Tennis squad to be a formidable one.

This year, led by Ted Winings and Richy Wallace, the team won almost half of their matches. Bad weather caused them to have to cancel four matches and the boys feel as if the abbreviated schedule didn't give them a chance to show what they could really do.

The only Senior on the team was Richy Wallace so we can look forward to a strong team next year.

our Track season is highlighted

The Giants' Track Team had an excellent year. Many top-notch individual performances were turned in, and a number of records were broken.

Track is said by many coaches to be the most demanding sport as far as individual stamina and endurance is concerned. In no other sport does an athlete's own personal desire and determination show up as it does in track. Head coach Wendy Hine was indeed fortunate in having boys like Wally Bucklew, Harold Marksberry, Jack Rardin, Leroy McSchooler, and David Huston who were possessed of the determination to be outstanding.

Coach Hine and his assistant, John Bradley, gave the Keyhole the following records set this year: Ray Stanifer, 100-yard dash; Wally Bucklew, 180-yard low hurdles and 100-yard high hurdles; Harold Marksberry, high jump; and half-mile relay by the team composed of McSchooler, Stanifer, Spurgeon, and Bucklew.

Coach Hine can look forward to an excellent season again next year because next year's team will be bolstered by the return of many underclassmen who show much promise.

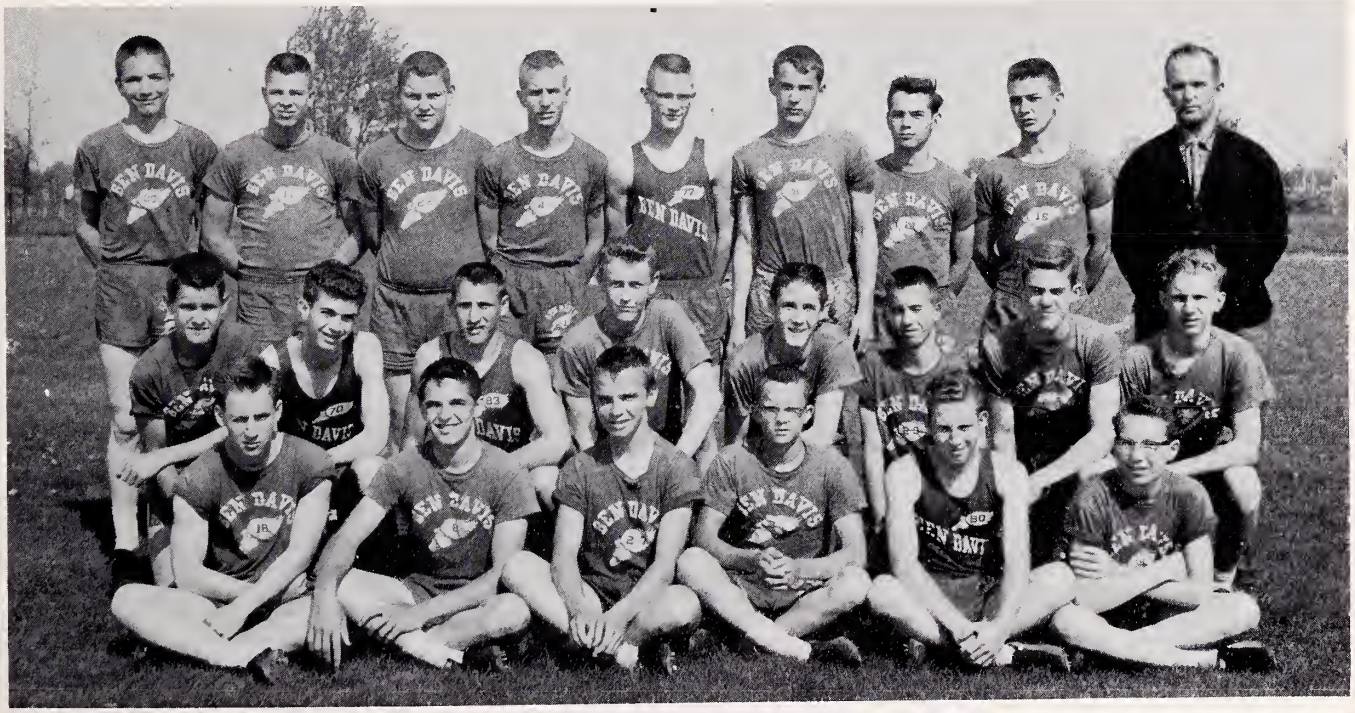

Big and fast Wally Bucklew shows his fine form in the High Hurdles at the Muncie Relays. Wally broke the school record this year with a time of :13.3 for the 100 yard High Hurdles.

with sparkling performances and records broken

Boys by no means are the only Ben Davisites participating in sports. Girls in the Girls' Athletic Association (G.A.A.) have shown the same spirited enthusiasm in earning their letters as have the boys in Lettermen's Club.

Membership in G.A.A. is maintained by earning at least 30 points a year in organized activities. These include: softball, track, basketball, tumbling and stunts, skating, dancing, archery, and volleyball. Members also participate in bowling, horseback riding, swimming, and hiking.

The club, started in 1953 and now sponsored by Mrs. Margaret Shuler, has a purpose of promoting ideals of health and good sportsmanship in girls' athletics.

This year's officers: Donna Kempster, president; Chlores Hayward, vice-president; Judy Harrell, secretary-treasurer; and Barbara Hameetman, point secretary; have encouraged such projects as: helping a needy family at Christmas and contributing to the cheerleaders' camp fund.

With the work and worry of this 1960 Keyhole out of the way, I again wish to extend my sincere gratitude and thanks to those who made this book possible. However, my special appreciation goes to the following:

Patty Cottey--who took my criticisms and "brainstorms" with such good grace and kept her sense of humor throughout the year.

Marjorie Wetzel--for her ability to do any task she was assigned thoroughly and well without demanding or expecting credit for what she did.

Mary Ann Spahr--for sticking with this work until it was completed. Also, Mary Ann is to be commended for being selected as Editor for 1961.

The Administration--for cooperating in every way in our job of getting in this book the record of Ben Davis High School for 1959-60.

The Walsworth Publishing Co.--for their excellent and careful attention to any and all problems concerning the Keyhole. We feel that the Walsworth Co. is the finest publishing company in the business today.

Shep Cutler--for his concern in connection with our Keyhole problems, and for his absolute integrity in business relations between this staff and Walsworth.

Sincerely,

Glenn H. Fisher
